Logo for Connor

The CM MainWorks logo

Navy and gold, the colours Connor already uses, with a new CM badge and friendly lettering. Every version, colour and section in one place.

THE LOGO

CM MainWorks

The CM badge on the left, the name in friendly lettering beside it, and what Connor does underneath. Navy and gold keep it recognisably his, just much sharper.

On light backgrounds. Paperwork, the website, signs.

On navy. The van, workwear, the website footer.

The CM badge on its own

C on navy, M on gold, locked together with a box joint. Used alone wherever space is tight: profile pictures, workwear, stickers, the app icon.

VERSIONS

Six versions for different places

Main logo. The default, used almost everywhere.

Stacked. For square spaces: signs, polo backs, social posts.

Without the line. When the descriptor would be too small to read.

Jaunty. The badge tilted, for stickers and socials.

One colour. Vinyl, engraving, black-and-white print.

One colour, reversed. Single-colour print on dark.

Business cards

The stacked logo on navy for the front, clean contact details on the back. The box joint carries through as gold and navy tabs on the card edge, and the back doubles as a key to the section colours.

Front. 85 × 55mm.

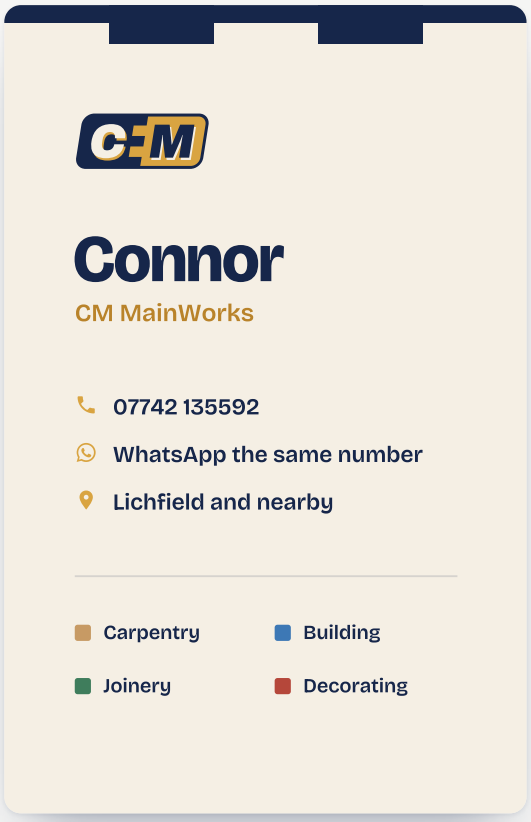

Back. Name, contact details and the section colours.

Portrait version, and the profile picture

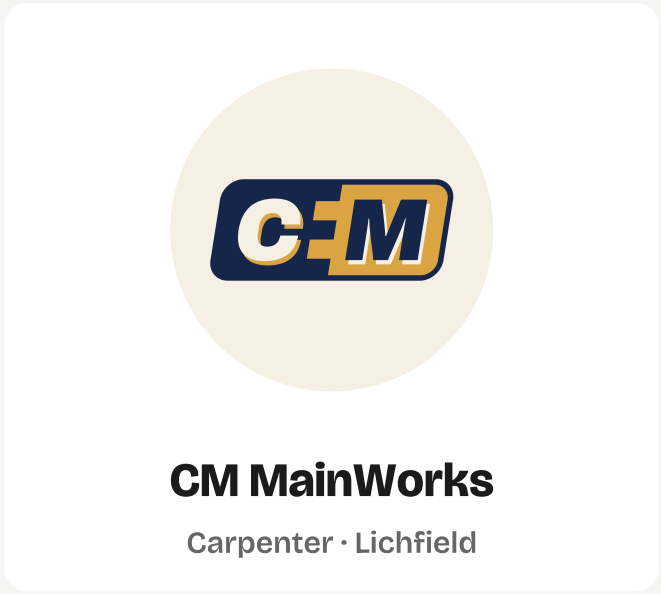

The same design turned upright, which feels a bit more modern. And the badge as Connor's Google and social profile picture.

Front. 55 × 85mm.

Back.

NEXT STEPS

What I need from Connor

- [ ] Is he happy with the logo?
  Anything he'd like changed.
- [ ] Which sections does he want?
  Carpentry, Building, Joinery, Decorating, or a shorter list to start.
- [ ] Is CM MainWorks the name for Google, Yell and invoices?
- [ ] Badge straight, or at a jaunty angle?

Once he's happy, he gets every version as finished artwork: SVG, PDF and EPS for the signwriter and embroiderer, and PNG for social media and the website.
